Wow!
Gorgeous!
Stunning!

But where would I hang it?

I would enjoy making a custom panel just for you that we design together

Custom 12 x 60 inch poppy transom hangs from two ceiling hooks, with built in backlighting

Hangers and chain removed; mounted in a standard 16 x 20 inch LED lightbox frame

Hangers and chain removed; mounted in a standard 16 x 20 inch LED lightbox frame

Hangers and chain removed; mounted in a standard 16 x 20 inch LED lightbox; frame covered with copper foil

Professionally installed by a carpenter

Screwed directly into the wooden window frame

Hanging from a hook on the wall

Screws through a short chain directly into the wooden window frame

Leaning on a window ledge (reasonably low-risk unless you have cats!)

Hanging from brackets screwed into ceiling
(glass is 35 x 12 inch)

Hanging from short chains screwed into the interior window frame to create privacy in this street-level window

(each piece is 21 x 33 inch)

Hanging from short chains screwed into the side window frame to create privacy in this bathroom (glass is 33 x 21 inch)

Custom-built, two-sided, wooden light box
(each piece is 20 x 15 inch)

Mounted on the wall like paintings, using small finishing nails

Permanently cemented onto an existing door window using epoxy around the frame